

The Silver Lining of Investment Losses

Leveraging intelligent tax management to get more out of your portfolio.

No one wants to see their portfolio fall in value, but tax-smart investment management can reveal a silver lining at such times by using declines to reduce tax liability and potentially add value for investors. Even temporary market drops can provide opportunities to reduce your current tax bill and potentially increase your long-term wealth. Tax loss harvesting (TLH) is a key feature of tax-smart investing. TLH looks to capture investment losses in your portfolio that may be used to offset your near-term tax liabilities and increase your after-tax returns.

How does Tax Loss Harvesting work?

The difference that Tax-Smart Investing can make in your tax bill and long-term wealth can be significant.

Save on Taxes This Year

By using losses to offset gains, and potentially up to $3,000 of income, the investor can lower their tax burden in the near term.

Now consider elsewhere in your portfolio Security B has a long-term gain of 25%. If you were to sell this holding, and pay the maximum long-term tax rate of 23.8% on the $3,000 gain, you would owe $714 in taxes.

Applying the Tax Savings to Other Gains

However, because you previously harvested the loss on Security A (above), you can offset $2,000 of this gain and save $476 off the tax on this gain, allowing the investor to keep that money invested.

Capture Value Even When Market Recovers

If the market recovers its losses, the client retains the value created by tax-loss harvesting and can even keep the money invested, earning additional returns.

Now, let's say the market goes back up 25% and the security proxy you used to replace Security A grows in value with the recovery. Excellent! You keep the tax loss you harvested and the money you saved can now be reinvested and grow.

Invest your Tax Savings

$476 in original tax savings rises by 25% alongside the new investment.

Additional Benefits to Tax-Loss Harvesting

If the gains that get offset are replaced by a larger eventual gain on the replacement security, Security A Proxy in the example, these “tax savings” would actually become deferred gains that could be taxed later as the gain is now measured from $8,000, not the original $10,000. In addition to the near-term tax payment relief, there are three other potential future benefits of deferring the realization of taxable gains that could reduce the amount of taxes eventually paid:

Where is Tax Management Not Appropriate?

Tax-smart investment management is typically a good idea; however, we will review your portfolio and analyze the potential impact to your investment strategy and your overall financial picture. For example, tax loss harvesting may not be appropriate for clients:

- ▶ In non-taxable accounts, such as IRAs or 401(k)s
- ▶ In accounts where most tax lots have appreciated so substantially that market-based declines would be unlikely to result in prices below cost basis (although newer tax lots are created with each rebalancing)
- ▶ If the investor is in a very low tax bracket or expects that they may be in a higher tax bracket at withdrawal than they are today

Keeping an Eye on the Markets

While no one can predict the future, we believe it is a good idea to be prepared in case markets are volatile or turn downward, and tax-smart management is an important capability to add value during these times.
